AROUND the TOWNSHIP

Chick Santos is a piano virtuoso. Chick started all the Lions club members Tuesday night by a masterly rendition of "America" on a player piano borrowed for the occasion. His digital dexterity was something tremendous and his interpretation was without a trace of compunction. His friends laughed when he sat down at the piano.

And they laughed when he got up. Never mind, Chick, true artists always are misunderstood.

It is Louis Ruschin looks a little sour these days, it is because his son, Bud, is going back to medical school at McGill university soon. Ruschin, who is Newark's honorary fire chief, mayor and god-father, all rolled into one, has come to depend a great deal on the boy. It's a pleasure to see them together.

Frankie Darte certainly blossomed out on Sunday. He had on a pair of ice cream pants so white they hurt your eyes to look at 'em.

About 10 days ago when we were down in Newark, we heard that Mr. Hellwig and the employees of this meat company had just had a goat dinner at Butler's restaurant. Goat, it seems, is a great delicacy.

About three days later, when we were up in Warm Springs, one of Joe Brown's friends was complaining that two of the best goats on his ranch had turned up missing.

Now, Mr. Hellwig, we wouldn't blackmail you for the world and we promise that we won't breathe a word of this business to anyone if you invite us next time there is a goat dinner going on any place.

The supervisory race is warming up.

Word reached Niles Tuesday that Richmond supporters had $1000 to bet that he will win the office in the primary. By the time the word spread to Newark, Amaral supporters declared: "Let Pleasanton bring its one grand down here. We'll cover it."

Political pronosticators claim that if Richmond does not win his fifty-one percent in the primary, he will have the toughest fight of his life. They point out, however, that his chance of getting the necessary majority is good. Amaral's chief weakness seems to be in Livermore. Schween is expected to run him a good race there and in Pleasanton.

Amaral is reputed to be far ahead of Schween in Washington township, where he has been working hard for the last three weeks. His supporters predict he will run Richmond a good race down here.

There are more registered voters in Washington township than in Pleasanton and Murray townships combined.

There are big things ahead out at Warm Springs where the I. D. E. S. lodge is planning its great Holy Ghost fiesta and annual convention next month.

The Warm Springs fiesta will be the most picturesque of all such celebrations in many ways. The beauty of the I. D. E. S. home, with its rolling hillsides and view of the distant bay will lend enchantment to the celebration.

In addition to the usual program, there will be an exhibition of "Chamarrilla," native Portuguese folk dance.

J. C. Valim, hard working supreme secretary of the lodge, is deep in plans for the gathering. Lodge members owe him a debt of gratitude for his unremitting efforts.

Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Dodge and Mr. and Mrs. D. O. Cozzi were out of town visitors at the Harvey Braun home Sunday.

IRVINGTON BODY GETS ACTION ON CROSSINGS

IRVINGTON—Immediate action on two highway crossings has been promised the Irvington junior chamber of commerce by Supervisor Ralph V. Richmond.

At a meeting of the chamber this week, O. N. Hirsch presented a letter from Richmond in which the supervisor describes the steps which he has taken to insure improvement in the Western Pacific crossing near Irvington and to bring about the closing of a stop sign at the W. Springs Y.

Richmond's letter follows: This will acknowledge receipt of your letter of August 1st, 1936, regarding the dangerous intersection of the state highway near Warm Springs and also the crossing of the Western Pacific Railroad with the Irvington Mission San Jose road, near Irvington.

The first matter has been taken up with Mr. Moore of the State Automobile Association, who advises me that the State Highway Department has made a survey of the situation and that the necessary signs will be installed immediately. The county surveyor has made a survey of the conditions at the railroad crossing at Irvington, which was forwarded to the Western Pacific Railroad company with recommendations for joint improvement by the railroad and the county. Under date of July 18th Mr. J. W. Williams, Chief Engineer for the Western Pacific agreed with the county's recommendations and promised to a range to have the necessary work done at an early date.

Thanking you for your interest in the above matters and assuring you that they will be given proper attention, I am Sincerely yours, RALPH V. RICHMOND, Supervisor-First District. Several weeks ago, the junior chamber undertook to see that the improvement of the crossing was made. Hirsch was on the committee to contact the committee to contact the railroad authorities regarding the necessary action.

Body Cells Drink as Well as Eat, Movie Films Show

Have Special Apparatus for Trapping Fluids

BALTIMORE. — Moving pictures of life under the microscope show that certain cells of the body drink as well as eat, using a ruffle for their drinking.

This discovery was made by Dr. Warren H. Lewis of the department of embryology of the Carnegie Institution of Washington and the Johns Hopkins Medical school.

For this bibulous type of cell activity he has used the Greek word, pinocytosis, meaning "drinking by cells." Since seeing it in studying moving pictures of cell life Dr. Lewis has been able to observe it directly by watching the cells through the microscope without the aid of the camera.

Cells Look Like Ruffles
The outer edge of these drinking cells flattens out into a thin membrane which looks like a ruffle. In the films it is seen to be constantly waving about, often projecting out for some distance from the body of the cell. Globules of fluid in the medium in which the cells live can be seen floating into a fold of the ruffled edge of the cell and being surrounded by part of the ruffle.

Trapped within its folds, which probably fuse around the globules and completely enclose them, they move rapidly on into the interior of the cell and within from one to five minutes may be seen with other globules that surround the cell nucleus.

Cells Drink Heavily.
Some of these cells are pretty heavy drinkers, it appears, for Dr. Lewis reports that under certain conditions they take in a relatively enormous amount of fluid. In the course of an hour the total may amount to one-third of the volume of the cell. As though a human toper were to down six or eight gallons in the same length of time.

It is not only the macrophages which are drinking cells. Dr. Lewis has seen cancer cells drinking and also has observed it in cells from part of the stomach tissue of rats. It may be that all cells drink.

Inventor's Device Tunes Ship's Radio Despite Heavy Seas

WASHINGTON. — An ingenious circuit intended to eliminate the detuning of a ship's radio transmitter and receiver produced by rolling seas, and thereby help insure the ship keeping in constant touch with other ships, is revealed in a patent granted here to a Paris, France, inventor—Jean Rebottier.

When a ship rolls at sea its radio antenna tilts toward and away from the water.

How Signals Are Lost.
This causes a change in antenna capacity, which means that the receiver may be thrown out of time, and the transmitter out of control so that the radio signals received or sent out vary in intensity or may be lost altogether.

To compensate for this, the inventor connects the antenna with a variable tuning element, an adjustable condenser, which is worked automatically by the rolling motion of the ship.

No matter what position the ship is in its antenna capacity remains constant. Signals sent and received, therefore, cannot vary with rolling.

"Lost" Earthquake Is Located in Himalayas

WASHINGTON. — The "lost earthquake" has been found, hiding in the Himalayas.

This mysterious earthquake, somewhere in northern India, registered itself strongly on seismographs all over the world on May 27. Since then, scientists have been hunting hard for it, very much puzzled that no word had come out by wire or radio, because first calculations indicated its occurrence in the densely populated valley of the Ganges, where great loss of life would have been certain.

Now, from belated additional cables and radiograms that straggled in, seismologists of the U. S. Coast and Geodetic Survey here, and of the Jesuit Seismological association in St. Louis, have re-located it, this time in the remote, sparsely populated mountain fastnesses about 200 miles northwest of Mount Everest.

Fashion Back to Femininity Trend

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

tailored to the pink of perfection during the practical hours and for sports? Decidedly so, if you would be smartly in fashion. However, it is an entirely different story which the mode is telling "what to wear" at festive midsummer events that take place amidst glamorous settings. Comes then into the style scene as lacy and lovely and sheer costumes—beautiful as ere graced a fashion picture.

The lavish use of nets, laces, organzas, marquisettes, tulle and similar materials of filmy texture and transparency quite exceeds anything of its kind seen for many a year. In the daytime they are tailored and for the night hours and for garden party wear these entrancing sheers are made up as pretty-pretty as genius and imagination can possibly create them.

The trio of dainty costumes in the picture most eloquently carries the message of lovely ladies clad in beguilingly feminine array such as is gracing the midsummer landscape with romance and the picturesque. The first impression one gets from this group, aside from the beauty of the sheer materials, is that of big hats, cunning puff sleeves and hemlines that are generously and gracefully wide. Since first impressions usually ring true, we learn important facts in regard to the correct silhouette for 1936 midsummer garden party and dance frocks.

The winsome dress pictured to the left is of a very fine crossbar net. Style points to note are the fancifully picketed hemline with like-pointed ruffles on the voluminous puffed sleeves, the flower ruche about the throat, also the huge-brimmed hat that is made of the selfsame net (stiffly starched) as the gown. Here also we see the return of the parasol.

"PAX" SILK PRINTS

By CHERIE NICHOLAS

Prints continue to hold sway in the world of fashion. The lure of it is stronger than ever. Shown in the picture is one of the very interesting and unique "pax" (pax being the Latin word for peace) silk prints designed by a member of the board of directors of the international league for peace. These really handsome silk prints are available to women who are interested in adopting the peace-in-fashion movement. The dress pictured is of a blue and white silk sheer with the word pax so skillfully used as a motif it becomes a part of the patterning. The wide white-bordered cape-bertha is pleated and shirred in accord with the latest styling trend.

Garden party dresses when they are as fanciful and airy as the one to the right in the picture make one think of a fairy-story princess, stepping lightly across her garden. The dress is pure white, in organza most beautifully embroidered to knee-depth about the hemline of the skirt and on the sleeves. The gown is simply cut, its graceful lines taking on an added touch of the exquisite in a double row of the exquisite lace borders the wide skirt working up into a deep point in the front in combination with the embroidery. The treatment of the puffed sleeves is fittingly quaint.

Lovers of beautiful lace will adore the gown shown centered in foreground. It is one of the loveliest from among most lovely dresses brought over on the maiden voyage of the royal steamship Queen Mary and shown at the display of exclusive British fashion creations recently presented here in America. It adds to its interest to know that it was one of four Reville creations approved for the royal garden party of King Edward VIII at Buckingham palace. The gown is of exquisitely fine lacy lace, of forget-me-nots, matching the crown of the hat in the same color. It would seem next to impossible to imagine anything prettier than this fantasy of lace and flowers which is done all in delicate blues.

In the present back-to-femininity trend, the garden party dress has its important place, especially when in the instances cited in this group it is just as perfect for country club or roof dancing on summer evenings.

FROSTED JEWELRY LEADS THE VOGUE

By CHERIE NICHOLAS
Summer's newest jewelry is "white and frosty." Rings, bracelets and necklaces that look as icy as a cool drink are being worn at fashionable summer resorts. Crystalline and opaque whites are frequently combined. Crystalline alone adds a glamorous note to costumes in the new smoky pastels, opaque white is good with copper-brown, and with the south-sea batik prints or flowered challis. Choker necklaces are staging a come-back. Large frosty rings are frequently worn to match. To set off the rings, nails are adopting shades of smoky red polish. Massive courtier rings with multi-colored stones are also smart, and require bright nail lacquer such as robin red or coral to give the hands the proper balance.

For moments when the urge to be feminine has you in its grip, try yielding to the rage for flower jewelry. Fabric flowers, raffia flowers, carved flower motifs, are used—even the real thing straight from the florist. Any flower goes, from daisies to forget-me-nots. Some of the necklaces tie demurely at the back of the neck with a ribbon.

New Mode in Smart Sports Dresses for Daytime Wear
Smart dresses for daytime wear during the summer include grand new sports and spectator sports outfits. Molyneux has scored with a new design made for his private clients, who include several Americans known for their elegance. A suit of beige woolen has a most interesting belt which is made of natural tree bark and is fastened with a sheaf of dried grass. Another successful number is a dress of navy and white linen tweed with the skirt of wide, flat pleats. It is worn under a navy wool redingote.

Place a glass pie plate over the top of the kettle when making a stew. The stew may then be watched while cooking without lifting the cover or allowing steam to escape.

Add a tablespoon of cream to roast beef or lamb gravy. It makes it a delicious brown.

To wash feather pillows soak in soapuds for several hours, changing the water as it becomes soiled. Then put them through a washing machine or wash them by hand. Rinse them well in clear water and hang them in a sunny place to dry. Turn frequently to change the position of the feathers in the tick.

Custards may be cooked on the top of the stove when the oven is in use, and they are just as good as custards cooked in the oven. Put the dish into a kettle of water and keep the water boiling until the custard is set.

Shark Fishing

Norwegian fishermen report that shark fishing off the Shetland Islands is now more profitable than trawling. They say that this season they have been able to make catches worth $3,500 to $4,000 in a few days. Large galvanized iron swivel hooks 50 fathoms apart on stout lines are baited with haddock. The sharks, from 10 to 14 feet long, are hauled aboard by means of derricks. Every part of the fish is used, flesh being salted for food and skin preserved as fine leather. While the shark lines are in the sea the fishermen shoot dolphins, which are used as food on silver fox farms.

Mrs. Braun Tells How To Make Favorite Dish

NILES—When Harvey Braun goes home after a day of struggling with Southern Pacific business and Mrs. Braun wants to give him a treat, she feeds him noodles.

Harvey's capacity for noodles is something tremendous. Mrs. Braun has a way with noodles and here is how she does it:

First she buys the noodles. Any kind are all right, but the best must be obtained in Oakland where they can be purchased freshly made.

She puts a pound and a half in a casserole after boiling and draining them.

Then she melts a tablespoon of butter, mixes in a tablespoon of flour, a pint of milk, a package of Italian grated cheese.

She pours the sauce over the noodles and lays strips of bacon across the top. She bakes the mixture in a slow oven for half an hour.

She says that when Mr. Braun is not present, the dish will serve six people.

Mock Chicken

And Spaghetti Handy Receipts

Mock chicken legs are a combination of veal and pork shoulder. The two meats should be run through a tendering machine that locks the fibers together.

Brown the chicken legs in a hot deep fat, and then place them on a rack in a roaster with a little boiling water underneath and bake them in a moderate oven for about forty-five minutes. The mock chicken legs can be dipped in cracker crumbs or dredged in flour before browning.

Ham 'n Apple Dish Has Big Appeal Range

This is a very versatile dish. It can be served for a hearty breakfast and with a more generous serving of ham can be used for an appetizing dinner.

1 large center slice of ham, 1/2 inch thick
1 cupful sugar
1 teaspoonful of dry mustard
1 tart apple for each serving
Trim off all the fat and cut the slice of ham into 5 or 6 suitable sized pieces for serving. Cut the fat into small cubes. Arrange the pieces of ham in the bottom of a shallow baking dish, with the bits of fat scattered in between. Mix the sugar and mustard and sprinkle over all. Wash and core the apples but do not peel them; cut each one in halves crosswise, and place cut-side down on the sugar. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 degrees) for 45 minutes, or until the apples are done when tested with a fork. The ham will be tender, surrounded with a thick, delicious syrup, topped with apples that are permeated with a wonderful flavor. 2 or 3 apple halves make a good serving.

CARROT NOVELTY

Sometimes it is difficult to discover or to concoct a new way for serving the same vegetable. We are suggesting a new way for serving carrots, as follows:

1 cupful of grated raw carrots
2 tablespoonfuls of grated onion
2 cupfuls of bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoonful of baking powder
1 or 2 eggs
Salt and pepper

Combine the ingredients in the order given, adding a bit of milk to moisten the mixture if only 1 egg is used. Form into patties and fry slowly until brown on both sides in a small amount of fat in a skillet. Serve with maple syrup and butter, with or without bacon or other meat. Even men who abhor carrots pronounce these good.

After a strenuous morning outdoors here's a luncheon dish that will be appreciated. Bake corned beef hash (canned) in large muffin tins until brown and crusty. Break egg on top of each and bake again until egg is set but not too hard.

DO YOU KNOW THAT

Lamb and Spaghetti Spanish
4 cups cold cooked lamb
2 cans spaghetti and tomato sauce
1 cup catsup
1 cup water
1 dry onion, finely cut
2 tablespoons butter or bacon fat

Fry the minced onion in the fat till tender but not brown. Add the spaghetti and tomato mixture and the catsup diluted with the water. Stir in the meat and heat thoroughly.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Iron table linen while damp and press until it is dry to preserve its stiffness. Never stretch table linen.

When you make a quantity of sandwiches there is a lot of bread crusts left over. Place them in the oven until they are nice and brown, then crush to a fine powder with a rolling pin. Keep in a glass jar to be used for frying, rolling fish, or croquettes.

Tomato-Hollandaise Sauce

An interesting variation of Hollandaise sauce is the following. It can be used wherever the usual one is appropriate. It makes a very thin sauce.

1/2 cupful (1 cube) of butter
Yolks of 2 eggs
1 tablespoonful of lemon juice
1 teaspoonful of salt
Few grains of cayenne

Divide the butter into 3 pieces. Put one piece in a sauce-pan or double boiler with the egg yolks and lemon juice, and stir over hot (not boiling) water until the butter begins to melt. Add the second piece of butter, continuing to stir, and, as it thickens, add the third piece lifting the pan from the water occasionally to keep the sauce from getting too hot and curdling. Add the salt, cayenne, and tomato juice last, and let stand over hot water until ready to serve.

Cup Cakes

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
4 eggs, not separated
1 1/2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
Grated rind of 1 orange
1 1/2 cups flour
Pinch of salt
1 small rounding teaspoon baking powder
1 1/2 cups raisins
Orange peel
1/2 cup chopped almonds
Sprinkle a few nuts over the top and bake in muffin tins.

Gelatin Cool Dish In Sultry Summer Weather

This tastes good in hot weather: Add 3 apples, finely shredded, to lime-flavored gelatin after it has thickened slightly. Chill in refrigerator tray; serve as a dessert, with whipped cream or as a dessert-salad with mayonnaise dressing.

FRENCH HAM OMELET

6 eggs
6 tablespoons milk
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon grated onion if desired

1 cup cooked, diced ham
2 tablespoons butter
Beat the eggs with the milk and seasoning until well mixed. Heat a skillet and rub the inside of it with the butter. Fold the ham, parsley and onion into the egg mixture and pour into the hot skillet. Lift the side of the omelet two or three times with a knife so that the uncooked mixture may come in contact with the pan. When the mixture is almost cooked but still shiny, roll the omelet and serve at once on a hot platter. This amount serves five.

VEAL BALL STEW

2 pounds ground lean veal
2 tablespoons melted butter
1 cup bread crumbs
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1 green pepper, finely chopped
1 egg, well beaten
6 dry onions
6 potatoes
1 cup celery cut in 1-inch length
1 cup hot water
1/2 cup catsup

Mix the ground meat with the butter, crumbs, parsley, green pepper egg and seasonings. Form this into small balls and fry these until brown in hot fat. Mix the water with the catsup, add the vegetables that have been peeled and cut into pieces, and combine with the meat. Simmer on top of the stove or in a covered casserole in the oven till the meat and vegetables are tender. This will be about 1 1/2 hours.

Old-fashioned Pickled Peaches

Here is an old southern recipe for pickled peaches. It does take over 4 days, but it takes only a few minutes each day, so they really are very little trouble. And after all, what is time to a peach? Peel 5 pounds of firm cling peaches, and put them into a deep crock or an enamel pan. Scald together 1 pint of pure cider vinegar, 3 pounds (6 1/2 cupfuls) of sugar, half brown and half white, 3 or 4 sticks of cinnamon, and 2 tablespoonfuls of whole cloves. Pour boiling hot water over the peaches, cover with a plate weighted down to hold the fruit under the liquid, and let stand 24 hours. Drain off the liquid, reheat, pour over the peaches again, and let stand another 24 hours. Repeat on the third day. On the fourth morning, drain off the liquid (straining out the spices), boil it down to a fairly thick syrup, and in this simmer a few peaches at a time until they are tender but not soft. Pack hot in sterilized jars, cover with syrup, and seal. And while we are considering peaches, here is an easy way of fitting the hot halves of fruit into the jars in the exact spot where they are wanted, making them symmetrically packed and good looking enough for the State Fair. Put the spatula into the jar; then with a large spoon, pick up a half peach and place it cut side down on the spatula, and slide it down into place. Dip with one hand, and with the other change the position of the spatula a bit as each peach is quickly tobogganed into position with practically no effort and no burned fingers.

Day-Before Recipes Boon to Housewives

There are several advantages of the tuna salad loaf. One is that it can be made at your leisure the day before you wish to serve, and left in the icebox over night. It is inexpensive and very easy to make, as well as attractive to look at and very simple to serve. The ingredients and instructions are as follows:

1 tablespoon of granulated gelatine
1/4 cupful of cold water
1/2 pound can of tuna
1 cupful of grated raw carrots
1/2 cupful of diced celery
1/2 cupful of minced sweet pickles
1/4 cupful of minced green

pepper
1 pint of cottage cheese
1 cupful of mayonnaise
Salt and pepper to taste
1 medium-long loaf of sandwich bread, unsliced

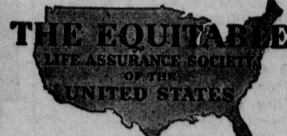

First put the gelatine to soak in the cold water, while you prepare the salad mixture; flake the tuna, add the prepared raw vegetables and pickles, and mix lightly. Mix the mayonnaise and cottage cheese. Melt the soaked gelatine by heating it over hot water, and stir carefully into the cheese-mayonnaise, then add the first mixture and mix gently. Prepare the loaf of bread by cutting off all the crusts except the bottom one, then cut off a three-fourths inch slice the full length of the top to serve as a lid. Hollow out the center of the loaf, leaving walls about three-fourth of an inch thick. (If they are too thin, the salad will cause them to bulge). Pack the prepared mixture into the bread "box" carefully and lightly — it should just fill it. Put on the lid, wrap the whole thing carefully in wax paper to prevent its drying out, and store in the refrigerator. An hour or so before serving time, frost the loaf top and sides with three packages of cream cheese thinned to spreading consistency with milk or cream. Don't apply the frosting too smoothly; rough swirls are more effective. Decorate the top with strips of pimiento or green pepper, egg slices, parsley, or combinations of garnishes that appeal to you. It is lovely left pure white, placed on a cheese board with chicory or curly lettuce surrounding it. Cut in slices to serve.

New Marmalade Takes Eye As Well As Tongue

Glasses of this marmalade are ever so pretty, and good too. This will be good with toast or hot biscuits or waffles when fresh peaches are gone.

Peel and slice enough cling peaches to provide 5 pounds weight, or about 3 quarts or 12 cupfuls by measure. (Peel 3 good-sized oranges, and boil the peeling until tender in water to cover. Cut up the orange sections and add to the peaches; add also 5 pounds sugar. When the orange peel is tender, cut it in fine bits and add to the fruit and sugar mixture, mix all together, and let stand overnight. In the morning cook slowly until thick, then remove from the heat and add 1/2 to 1 cupful of Maraschino cherries, chopped fine, and seal in small jars.

You will probably serve lots of fruit salad during the August dog days. Try a variation by adding to the mayonnaise, just before serving, raisins (cut with scissors) or chopped California walnuts; add chopped celery and green pepper for a green salad.

NEWARK LOSES BY CLOSE MARGIN IN RECENT GAME

By Eugene Pashote

Newark was beaten last Sunday in its game with the Alaska Packers' of Alameda by the narrow margin of 6 to 4.

The Packers are rated as one of the best clubs on the coast and they also are in the tourney sponsored by the Oakland Tribune.

The fact that Newark did so well against them, has given the local boys quite a bit of encouragement even in defeat.

The Packers got all the breaks of the game. For instance, when one of the batters was up and tipped the bat and the umpire said, "take a walk," Newark merchants tried to change the decision and didn't.

That is, three men on for the Packers and the next man came thru with a hit which tipped the scales.

They scored the next two on an error.

Joseph C. note, Newark manager, has signed three new ball players for the tournament. They are Holmes, pitcher; Governor, catcher and Ray Robb, third.

The star batters for Newark in Sunday's game were Robb, who got two hits for three tries, Ferry who hit a double, and Governor who got one for two.

Holmes, Newark's new pitcher, pitched four innings and allowed no hits.

Ferrera, who finished the game allowed six hits.

The box score follows:

Masonic Home News

by JAMES H. HEATH

Although Home people are not advised of the details they are sure the annual visit, Saturday, of officers and members of half a hundred chapters of the Order of the Eastern Star, under the auspices of the Past Matron's Association of the East Bay area capable direction of Mrs. Cornelia Bernstein of Berkeley lodge. For 12 consecutive years she has represented this important capacity.

of whom have served in the past, well organized and service to the word.

The guests of the association will include the Grand Matron, Mrs. Bertis Y. Todd and members of her official family, as well as will be a notable event.

In the opinion of Supt. Hartman and veterans of the Home family the visitation will be fully as interesting as any of the annual gatherings of the Stars in past years.

Generally speaking, however, the visitors, who in the 1935 pilgrimage numbered 600 by actual count at the noon-day basket picnic lunch, will practically all be on the Home campus by the time the whistle is blown for the regular noon registration of Home members in the dining room.

Gathering at the banquet hall in the basement of the south wing at the Home will be extended and the visitors will be seated for lunch, with table service, hot coffee (the famous Bernstein brew), cream, sugar and other incidentals provided by the Home, under the past grand matrons of California and other states. Special tables will be arranged for them at the lunch. Mrs. Todd, who was elected to the highest office of the state organization at the annual convention at Coronado last October, succeeding Mrs. Minnie Viola Collins, will be accompanied by the Grand Patron, Edward C. Counter Jr., who at the 1935 gathering at the Decoto Home represented Grand Patron J. Hartley Taylor, and possibly by others of the grand officers, as follows:

Associate Grand Matron, Rita May Cooper; Associate Grand Patron, Frank Kruse; Grand Secretary, Maude McWilliams Smith; Grand Treasurer, Josephine Ifsk; Grand Conductress, Mary Isabel Warner; Associate Grand Conductress, Maude Fluettsch and Trustee, Eastern Star Home, Jessie Galbraith Morris.

As will be recalled Mrs. Willa Jane Hellwig, a past grand matron, and one of the most active members of the order, a resident of a near-by community, was numbered in the list of distinguished guests. Mrs. Fannie Ward, a past grand matron of the Texas jurisdiction, was also a guest.

The program of the afternoon entertainment in the assembly hall, which last August was scarcely large enough to accommodate the crowd, had not been received at this writing but it is safe to say that it'll be something worth while.

The grand and past grand officers will of course have seats upon the platform.

The visiting Stars will remember the Home with the usual generous donation, representing the several chapters.

All in all the 1936 visitation of the loyal members of the Order of the Eastern Star in this section of the state is likely to be a very interesting occasion.

BRIEF MENTION
Members of the Honolulu lodges in the Home declare that we are likely to hear reports of a big reception to Grand Master and Mrs. Earl Warren on their visit to that city.

No radio music or radio service of any sort in the Home before 7:30 a. m. and after 10:30 p. m. This is the official word, and brings joy to most of the home family.

The Rev. Godfrey Mathews of the Hayward Congregational Church was welcome as the speaker of the devotional service, Sunday afternoon.

The railway mail clerks, and others of Uncle Sam's postal service know where the Decoto Home is located, all right. This week a letter to the writer, addressed "Masonic Home, California," came through without delay.

TOWNSHIP CLUB
On Labor Day, Sept. 7, 1936, there will be a Townsend picnic at Linda Vista Park at Mission San Jose.

The principal speakers will be Mr. Frank Rutherford from Townsend headquarters, San Francisco, and your Congressman, Albert E. Carter of Oakland.

There will be two gate prizes of $5.00 and $2.50; also valuable prizes for games of all kinds. Speaking starts promptly at 1 p. m. Dancing at 2:30 p. m. until 7 p. m. Admission 25 cents; children under 12 years free. All are invited.

CALIFORNIA TAXPAYERS

GUARD YOUR HOMES

Cleverly-baited and deceptively-worded, the ruinous "SINGLE TAX" will appear as PROPOSITION NUMBER 1 on your November ballot.

"Single Tax" is an exorbitant LAND TAX, deliberately designed to DESTROY HOME AND FARM OWNERSHIP! California voters have conclusively demonstrated at seven elections that they would not KNOWINGLY vote for it.

But the "Single Tax," at this year's election, is flying under false colors, it is DISGUISED as a Sales Tax Repeal Act—a definite, flagrant attempt to trick the voter and bilk the taxpayer!

THIS IS YOUR FIGHT

This is not a political issue. It is a fight for financial self-preservation. It is YOUR CAMPAIGN—the campaign of every home-owner, every farmer, every business man, every renter and every worker.

SingleTaxers believe that the private ownership of land is "against natural justice" ... that ALL LAND SHOULD BELONG TO THE STATE, as it does in Soviet Russia ... that YOU SHOULD RENT THE HOME YOU NOW OWN!

By the brazen expedient of MAKING TAXES HIGHER THAN THE TAXPAYER CAN PAY, it is planned to CONFISCATE YOUR PROPERTY. The average rate would be $11.25 per $100 the first year—increasingly higher in succeeding years! Such rates are PLAINLY CONFISCATORY!

Join your local Committee Against the "Single Tax," or write to this Association for further information. ... Guard your homes against tax cranks and social revolution ... PROTECT CALIFORNIA FROM TAX DISASTER!

SMART SCHOOLMAN

Now that high school is about to open for another year, township people would do well to pause for a minute and reflect that they are employing a remarkable man as the school's principal.

We don't know anything about A. J. Rathbone as an educator. We don't know how fertile his mind is in helping students to make the most of their high school.

But we have seen the figures on his record as an administrator and a saver of taxpayers' money. We know there are few school men like him.

The present tax rate for the high school is 31 cents on the $100. or that rate, Rathbone is educating more children than used to be educated on a rate more than twice as large.

In spite of these economies, the school has not stood still. Teachers are drawing salaries which compare favorably with those in other districts and the high school has had the advantage of a well-worked out building program.

School men with real business sense are rare. The Washington district is lucky.

SWIMMING POOL

Speaking of the high school, this newspaper believes that it should be the logical center of community activity in the township. When the new fast highways and the bay bridge are complete, this district will grow rapidly in population and its needs will expand.

There is plenty of room around the high school campus for a recreation center which would be of benefit to the students during the school year and keep the township's children out of mischief during the summer.

A swimming pool, for instance, would cost in the neighborhood of $20,000, and could be financed out of high school building funds over a period of two years without any increase in school taxation.

Alameda creek and the gravel pits offer many disadvantages to swimmers. The creek is shallow and none too clean and the pits are too deep, too lonely and infested with too many tramps.

The high school's building funds this year will be taken up with the construction of the new agriculture room but next year, we believe, a swimming pool would be in order.

The Irvington Junior chamber of commerce and particularly O. N. Hirsch deserve a good deal of credit for the prompt fashion in which they are achieving results in their drive for better railway and highway crossings in their district.

The letter received from Supervisor Ralph Richmond this week indicates that the action of the group protesting conditions was all that was necessary to rectify what has been a source of trouble for years.

It might be to the point here to say that the value of a junior chamber or any other civic or service group does not lie in the number of parties it gives or in the number who attend its meetings. The value lies rather in the amount of service it renders to its community—in such things as junior patrols, street signs, better crossing, and so forth.

FERRY WORKERS TO BE JOBLESS

Whether or not the strike of employees of the San Francisco bay ferry boats comes off, the workers offer a typical case of technological dislocation. Whatever they can win by striking will be small compensation for loss of their jobs. The bridges can use only a few hands. Most of the men must look for seafaring berths or try their luck at something entirely new.

If times were normal the catastrophe would not be so great. In good times, all who want to work and know how, always find jobs sooner or later. But trying to find a job these days is often a heartbreaking experience.

TAXPAYERS FOOT BILL

Perhaps the most senseless of all California political activities is the maintenance of agricultural officers on every road at the state borders to inspect the baggage of incoming tourists. This is not to be confused with the Los Angeles police border patrol, which is interested exclusively in

THEY DO NOT SMILE

They do not smile, nor do they sing,
Though birds announce another spring,
And winds have breathed the clouds away.
Their broken minds recall the day
The God of War took everything.

The rope has rotted from the swing,
And cherished voices do not ring
Where John and Henry used to play—
They do not smile.

The ivies twine and old oaks fling
Gnarled arms across the porch—to bring
Tear memories of boys once gay,
Whose star-clean eyes were turned to clay
When death sped by on leaden wing.
They do not smile.

The Farmer's Corner...

BY RALPH H. TAYLOR
(Executive Secretary, Agricultural Council of California)

Farm recovery—the story of California agriculture on “the road back” to better days and a revitalized industry—will be the keynote of California's 1936 State Fair, to be held at Sacramento, September 5-14.

And California farmers, with new confidence and new hopes for the future, will pack the big exposition with the material evidence of agriculture's bid for rehabilitation and a sound, profitable industry.

Nearly $2,000,000 worth of prize livestock, the finest and most comprehensive livestock exhibit in the history of the exposition, will be displayed at the 1936 Fair, according to Fred H. Bixby of Long Beach, livestock chairman of the big show.

The county exhibits of California's banner farm counties will feature the choice agricultural and horticultural products of each area—high quality commodities which have made California agriculture famous in markets throughout the world.

And to add zest to competition at the big show, Secretary Charles W. Paine announces that more than $14,000 has been hung up in purses, prizes, awards and trophies, a considerable increase in prize money.

“Essentially, the California State fair is a farm exposition,” it is pointed out by A. B. Miller, president of the fair board, “but agriculture and education go hand in hand, with the result that the fair has become one of the greatest educational gatherings in the country—both for the man from the country and the man from the city.”

“The fair is of tremendous value to agriculture, but it is of even greater value in re-awakening and maintaining public appreciation of the fundamental importance of our farming industry to the State as a whole. At a time such as this, when our people, in every walk of life, are fighting for a new foothold and new security, the pageant of California agriculture—its progress and development—its successful bid for recognition in all the markets of the world—is of inestimable value in building confidence and faith in California.”

The farmer interested in the latest innovations in modern-day farm machinery and equipment will find the most extensive display of this type in recent years, according to W. A. Kennedy of Pomona, chairman of the machinery and manufacturer's division.

Much new machinery which was held back during the depression years, due to the reduced purchasing power of the farmer and consequent lack of demand, will go on the market for the first time this year, Kennedy said, and will have its first California showing at the fair.

Talking pictures will be used in the farm machinery building to demonstrate every phase of tractor and machinery improvements.

And to add novelty to the farm display, a draft team pulling contest will be held daily at the big exposition—with a new type of “dynamometer,” scientifically measuring the pulling strength of the various teams.

Meetings of man of the major farm organizations, including the Farm Bureau, the Grange, 4-H Clubs and Future Farmers, will be held during the fair, helping to swell attendance from the country districts.

With fair officials predicting an attendance of more than half a million—50,000 more than last year's attendance and an all-time record—California's big exposition promises to compete with Illinois and Texas this year for the honor of being “the biggest show in the United States.”

RED CROSS WILL HAVE BOOTH FOR LOST CHILDREN

SACRAMENTO—The American Red Cross again will have a booth to take care of lost children at the State Fair in Sacramento, Sept. 5 to 14. The booth will be located at the Women's Building and an announcing system will expedite their return to parents.

This was made through the Sacramento chapter American Red Cross. Only children under the age of 13 will be given assistance.

TRANSAMERICA GROWS

Transamerica Corporation, controlling branch banking systems in three Pacific states, today entered the state of Washington with the acquisition of control of the National Bank of Tacoma, one of the oldest national banks in Washington.

Recently control of the First National Bank of Klamath Falls, Oregon, was acquired by Transamerica.

turning back criminals and vagrants who might prey on solvent and law-abiding citizens or become public charges. This police activity has justified itself by results.

The agricultural inspection is another thing again. The inspectors go through the personal effects of incoming travelers, examining even the most intimate apparel. No fruit, vegetable, grass or seed is allowed to enter. Even oranges grown in California and purchased in northern states are confiscated.

The inspection is resented by everybody. Great claims are made of stopping bugs at the borders might cause infestation of California fruit. So far no attempt has been made to patrol the air, so insects may continue to ride the winds across the state lines without molestation.

Futility of such inspection service is obvious. Of course its real purpose is to create a lot of political jobs. The movement grew out of the infamous hoof-and-mouth disease quarantine of ten years ago which was badly bungled and cost the taxpayers great sums. In the view of experts the animal epidemic could have been stamped out for a fraction of the cost.

The present inspection service is creating universal resentment among tourists who are an asset to California.

City Life

Some of the super-service stations in the cities live up to their name and give it the works when you stop for a spot of gas. Only stations by having a force of young men who swarm over your car like the Lilliputs over Gulliver, lions can afford it where traffic is heavy and several pumps are kept busy. The attendants are well drilled and courteous. When a car drives in they come at a trot. One takes care of the gas and oil, the others go over the body with dust cloths, fill the radiator, service the tires, test the battery and clean the glass. There is no extra charge. When you pay your bill you feel you should have a haircut and a face massage before you climb in and drive away.

The feeling against living in the city is not confined to small-town dwellers. Just the other day I heard one of my neighbors say, “I wouldn't live in a big city if you paid me.” And he reminded me that a great many city folk would live in the smaller towns or in the country if they could. Why do men talk against the city and at the same time live in the city? We know that this dislike for city residence goes back beyond the Greeks to the ancient Egyptians.

A few years ago an American scientist found a brick in the Valley of Kings, upon which was written a lament for the life of the shepherds who watched their flocks out on the hills, away from the cities. Where did the rich Greek and Roman live? Advantage was taken of every stream and lake upon the banks of which were built sumptuous villas, away from the cities. At the time of Jesus, the hills surrounding the Lake of Galilee were practically covered with the temple-like homes of the rich. In 79 A. D. hundreds of sumptuous villas, built on the slopes of Mt. Vesuvius, were destroyed when that volcano erupted.

The feeling against living in the city may be founded on an instinctive fear of losing our identity, of being absorbed by the crowd, of becoming a microscopic toad in an almighty ocean. Or it may have its root in race-memory. Where did the Prodigal Son find the high-life which caused him to lose his birthright? In the city. According to the ancient Hebrews, Jehovah never destroyed a country village, but we have pretty vivid accounts of the destruction of wicked cities, witness Sodom and Gomorrah, not forgetting Babylon. An ancient Chinese sage forced his sons to live in the city to prevent their being contaminated by the sophistries of city life.

“I just can't think in crowds!” These words might have been spoken by all of the world's great prophets. Perhaps they would have said, “I cannot think my best thoughts in crowds.” Moses spent years far out on the Egyptian desert, preparing himself to become the leader of his people; Jesus met his great temptation after having withdrawn himself to forty days' into the desert; Buddha left his rich father for the life of a hermit. The list could be extended to include every great religious leader in history.

There may be a more practical reason why modern man manifests a dislike for living in the city. What is the use of owning a nice shiny car if you never have the opportunity to run it, except between street car tracks? The modern automobile has made it possible for an increasing number of city dwellers to do their work in the city and live in the country. We can still satisfy the race-old instincts and memories and at the same time feed those other impulses which cause use to build great cities.

new development of city life these last few years is the swarm of neighborhood ice cream wagons that move leisurely through the streets their bells tinkling, an almost irresistible urge for always hungry children.

Almost half a century ago, when ice cream was young, the hockey-poke vender was the precursor of the modern wagon dealer. He transported his wares by wheelbarrow and at every corner was surrounded by children. Hockey-poke was made of thin skimmed milk, sugar and flavoring extract—lemon or vanilla. The cone had not then been invented and Eskimo pie was not even a dream. Children were the principal consumers of hockey-poke and their digestions were good.

Now-a-days some of the large ice cream companies operate fleets of trucks to dispense their wares, and no neighborhood ice cream wagon is overlooked. Warm summer evenings the driver is kept busy dispensing single or double cones, and dispensing pints or quarts in cartons.

Some of the trucks traversing the more snooty neighborhoods are prepared to fill most any kind of ice cream order—up to Nesselrode pudding. But in the commoner sections the foundation of the business is the sale of cones.

It is a lazy hostess, so they say who serves ice cream for dinner dessert. But what hostess can resist the temptation when there are
